

Prof Dr Zeynep Karakas was born in 1959 in Gaziantep. He graduated from Istanbul Medical Faculty in 1982. He worked as a general practitioner in Konya and worked in Pediatrics at the Department of Pediatrics, Faculty of Medicine, Dicle University. From 1994 to 1998 he trained subspeciality for hematology oncology at Istanbul Medical Faculty, Pediatric Hematology / Oncology. He is married and has a son and daughter. He is currently a professor of Pediatric Hematology / Oncology. She studied haematopoietic stem cell transplantation for one year. Erythrocyte diseases and hemoglobinopathies are the main topics of Prof Karakas. Since 2003, he has participated in international clinical studies in hematology, especially hemoglobinopathies. He is also responsible for Hemoglobinopathy Center, Istanbul Medical Faculty, which was founded in 2007.